International Human Right's Day
Recognized by Terasem Movement, Inc.'s Second Annual Colloquium on the Law of Transbeman Persons

Public Invited Via Conference Call on December 10, 2006

Monday, December 4, 2006, MELBOURNE BEACH, FL -- Terasem Movement, Incorporated announced today that its Second Annual Colloquium on the Law of Transbeman Persons will be held December 10, 2006 in Melbourne Beach, Florida. A transbeman person is a being who claims to have the rights and obligations associated with being human, but who may be beyond currently accepted notions of legal personhood. Examples of transbemens include beings who claim legal rights but (a) are of computerized substrate, or (b) have been revived from biostasis, or (c) whose DNA varies significantly from human DNA.

These colloquia proceedings are open to the public via real-time conference call and will be archived online for free public access. The public is invited to call a toll-free conference-call dial-in line from 8:30 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. EST. Callers within the continental US and Canada may dial 1-800-475-3716; other countries: (00+1) 719-457-2728.

Most Colloquium presentations are designed for a 15-20 minute delivery, followed by a 20 minute formal question and answer period; questions from the worldwide audience will be invited. Presentations will also be available on the Colloquium's website at www.terasemcentral.org/2006ColloquiumProgram.html.

This year's speakers by order of presentation are: Prof. Wendell Wallach, Lecturer, Yale Interdisciplinary Center for Bioethics; J. Storrs-Hall, Ph.D., Institute for Molecular Manufacturing; David Calverley, Esq., Scottsdale, AZ; Peter Langrock, Esq, Middlebury, VT.; Prof. Gene Natale, J.D., Melbourne, FL; Will Rosellini, J.D., Dallas, TX; Susan Fonseca-Klein, Esq., Fonseca LLC; Prof. Sam Lehman-Wilzig, Bar-Ilan University, Israel; and Michael Rivard, Esq., Natick, MA.
